

ENDERBY SMART METER FORUM JULY 18, 2012

If there are those in our communities and in our nations who think that the Smart Meter issue is losing steam and that the discussion has taken place and it is time to move on, then those individuals ought to have been at the Drill Hall in the “Little City” of Enderby in the North Okanagan of British Columbia, Canada last night, July 18, 2012.

An overflow crowd estimated to be upwards of 300 concerned citizens wedged their overheated bodies onto uncomfortable wooden chairs in the non-air-conditioned atmosphere of this historic structure last evening, to witness the expert testimonies of three experienced well-informed professionals who, in no uncertain terms outlined the dangerous, illegal and often criminal activity occurring in hundreds of municipal jurisdictions around the globe. Make no mistake however, this nefarious protocol is being met head-on by one of the most ferocious oppositions to ever be mounted by an indignant, angry and endangered population.

The audience last night heard how involuntary wireless technology, proliferated in all its many invisible forms, is blasting and bombarding entire populations with electro-magnetic frequencies that are both threatening to their mental and physical health and often illegal, according to Health Canada and other nations’ medical standards as designated by law. These developments include Wi-Fi, m/w ovens, cellular & cordless phones, wireless routers, all wireless monitors including baby monitors, TV remotes, garage door openers, etc., and smart meters with their accompanying routers and collectors. Globally, scientists are warning that we are witnessing today the largest technological experiment in the history of the world without the knowledge or consent of its uninformed subjects. We, are those subjects. Globally all living organisms are on the brink of extinction. After the bees are gone, humanity has 50 years left to speculate.

During the course of the evening a letter, addressed to the Prime Minister of Canada was read outlining the security threat that faces Canada and any nation foolish enough to rely on a wireless power ‘smart grid’ network, which could easily be attacked and compromised by any terrorist or criminal element with simple hacking skills using software that already exists, specifically called malware. This correspondence is the thoughtful result of the tenure of a high-ranking Canadian military officer and professional who spent more than 26 years in the highly specialized field of radio communications, signals intelligence, electronic warfare and radio warfare in regard to national security. He says, “No communication (power) system is more defenseless against attack than wireless radio (frequencies)!”

This leaves one to consider then, that since there is no benefit to mankind from wireless technology, except for questionable convenience and entertainment aspects, the only benefit is to those obscenely wealthy promoters of the protocol, who stand to add to their obscene wealth and corporate power networks with ruthless disregard for the “reckless endangerment” that they are perpetrating on the environment of all living things.
